

Mgt 685 Story Research & Consulting Seminar

Professor David M. Boje 532-1693 Call between 9 AM and 8 PM; Office BC 318 email doje@nmsu.edu

MEETS: 2:35 to 5:05 PM on Tuesdays in Business Complex 204.

OFFICE HOURS: Tues 12:30 PM to 1:30 PM - Frenger Food Court (by Dynasty, at a table); or Tues 1:30-2:30 Tamara Journal Office Guthrie 220; are Please call 532-1693 for appointment

Please Set Aside in your calendar the Oct 2-4 2009 dates of WHAT'S ART? Exploring the Creative Economy of Dona Ana County Convention More info at <http://talkingstick.info> We will make this event a focal point of our seminar research. You will also be encouraged to have your own story research in your own academic interest area.

SYLLABUS 685.1 Story Research and Consulting to Organizations. We apply various qualitative story and narrative research methods (plot analysis, script analysis, life history, and restorying) to action research projects. Students will conduct story noticing assessments and (proposed or enact) interventions with a local consenting organization. They will write it up for possible publication.

Open to all Ph.D. students; and to any masters student (by permission of instructor). Contact David Boje for more information. Ph.D. students from Education, English, and several other disciplines besides Business have expressed interest in a course that is about story research as well as about how to use story in organizational change and development work. All are all welcome!

REQUIRED Online Book

Boje, D. M. (2008). Storytelling Organization. London: Sage. See <http://storytellingorganization.com>

Boje, D. M. (2008) Critical Theory Ethics for Business & Public Administration | Information Age Press ISBN-10: 159311785X ISBN-13: 978-1593117856s

FREELY PROVIDED

Boje, D. M. (2008) Story Consulting Textbook. On line version is updated daily so download new version of chapters just before class to be sure you are current

For more information see <http://business.nmsu.edu/~dboje/690/>